

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CamTran Service is Cancelled for Fixed Route, ADA and Reserve-A-Ride (Shared Ride) Service on Sunday January 25, 2026, Due to the Impending Winter Storm and Expected Dangerous Weather Conditions

Johnstown, PA (January 23, 2026) – Due to Winter Storm Fern and in the interest of safety for both customers and employees, CamTran is advising riders that there will be no bus service on Sunday January 25, 2026. Forecasts are predicting snowfall at rates as high as 2" per hour with total accumulations ranging between 12"-18" of snowfall.

No fixed route, ADA paratransit, or shared ride services will operate throughout the day on Sunday. This decision has been made proactively in response to expected hazardous winter weather conditions that could impact safe transit operations.

Customers are strongly encouraged to monitor ongoing service information and updates during this weather event through CamTran's official information channels:

- Website: www.camtranbus.com
- Facebook: facebook.com/camtranbus.com
- Instagram: instagram.com/camtranbus.com
- Avail MyStop App: Real-time service updates and alerts

CamTran will post service updates, including any additional delays, closures, or schedule changes, as new information becomes available.

Rose M. Lucey-Noll, Executive Director of CamTran stated, "We know how cancelling bus service on Sunday, January 25, is disruptive for our customers, and this decision was not made lightly. However, due to the severity of the winter storm forecasted on Sunday, bus service has been cancelled for the safety of our riders, bus operators and maintenance employees. We appreciate everyone's understanding as we continue to evaluate conditions in real time and we encourage riders to check our website and social media frequently for the latest bus service updates."
